"I'll sure be glad when they start working on these rough floors!"

We still need to grout this floor--then comes the wall and bathtub tiles.

So he-e-e-re we go!

"Well, maybe there's some hope after all. My favorite part is when they get this cleaned up and a second coat on the walls -- CURTAINS! YAAY!"

Molek--the guy we counted on to do this, was hit in a car accident. A lorry sideswiped the minibus he was traveling in and smashed his elbow in four places. With our hero gone things have slowed down.
