

Roy & Kathi Merritt
Tuesday, September 25, 2007

Jacaranda Time Again

This is our hottest time of the year. September and October are sometimes called, "The Suicide months" by those from gentle northern climes. Beat the heat with a cold ice tea sitting in the shade of an electric blue Jacaranda.

Each year God amazes me again as flowers bloom and the country brightens in anticipation of rain -- rain still two months away.